

Ms Karen Lam

Partner, Linklaters

Karen is a Partner of Linklaters' Structured Finance and Derivatives team. Karen advises clients on derivatives and structured finance, with a focus on financial markets infrastructure, carbon markets and securitisations in Asia. Karen is a member of the ISDA, IETA and ASIFMA APAC working groups on sustainable finance and carbon markets.

She has particular expertise in developing innovative solutions for the mainland China market access programmes, and is a core member of the Linklaters team that advises on derivatives clearing and OTC derivatives regulatory reforms. She has significant experience in covered bonds, cash and synthetic securitisations (including auto loans, credit cards and RMBS), and trade receivables financing, having worked on a number of market-leading securitisation transactions in Asia. Karen also has significant experience in hedging and collateral arrangements, structured notes and warrants linked to various underlying assets, ISDA and GMRA documentation, netting and collateral opinions.

Karen was recognised as an "Up and Coming" individual in the "Derivatives and Structured Products" practice in the Greater China by Chambers, a "Green Ambassador" in Asia Pacific by Legal 500 Green Guide, and a "Rising Star in Finance" by Euromoney Women in Business Law Awards. Karen is qualified in England and Wales and Hong Kong. She speaks fluent English, Cantonese and Mandarin.
